

What does the payee see when receiving a payment with Plooto?

Here is an overview of the various stages and screens that a Payee will see when accepting an e-mail money transfer for the first time. Future payments will be automatically processed if the option to save banking information is selected with a notification e-mail to the Payee.

Step 1: Initial E-mail
